Pictures Tell The Story

Being blind doesn't mean you can't find the mineral block! Well done Stevie!
The nose is definitely working!

July shares the love with a very happy visitor!

Introducing our new family member, Jonas

We brought Jonas into the Sanctuary when a kind family contacted us about him. He had been hit by a car and had an injured leg, making walking difficult. On examination, we determined that there was a fracture and a cast was put on. He has been doing very well so far. He is a good boy and doesn't trouble the cast at all which makes the prospects much better that there will be a reasonable mending of the fracture.

The cast was modified recently and Jonas is now sporting bright green vet wrap over the cast to help stabilize it. He continues to not chew at it or otherwise trouble it.

Our small studio apartment is now ready to accommodate volunteers.

We are grateful to our donors who understood the need for us to offer a place to stay for the wonderful folks who come from all over the world to help out, not just with the donkeys but also in the cattery and kennels. We have a small staff which makes the input of the volunteers extremely important.

If you have not already done so, we hope you will Like us on Facebook (the Donkey Sanctuary FB page) and review us on TripAdvisor. Please note: we have two Facebook pages, one exclusively for the donkey sanctuary and one for our charitable organization which is the Antigua & Barbuda Humane Society
